Dear Ladies

The LPC's 30 days provided by section 25 of PAIA within which to respond to my records request on 14 January 2025 has expired, and under section 27 is deemed to have been refused.

In other words, the LPC has violated my constitutional right to information guaranteed by section 32(1)(a) of the Constitution.

If you simply overlooked my request and didn't mean to illegally and unconstitutionally refuse me access to the records I duly requested, please advise me when I can expect your response and I'll consent to any reasonable extension under section 26(1)(e).

Kindly let me know your intentions within a week.

If I haven't heard from you, I'll file a complaint with the Information Regulator under section 77A to assist me enforce my right to information if possible, failing which I'll proceed to apply to court under section 78 to compel the LPC's compliance with my request.

Yours sincerely

ANTHONY BRINK

Good Day Mr Brink,

I refer to our emails dated 5 December 2024 , 14 January & 20 February 2025, and respond herewith as follows to your request for further information :

1. With regard to your email dated 5 December 2024, we noted your attached letter to the Constitutional court wherein you advised that your appeal was upheld against the dismissal of your complaint against Mlambo JP. Further, you had requested that the LPC refer the matter back to the Investigating committee to consider this additional information. In order for the committee to reconsider such information we request that you provide us with a ruling confirming that your appeal was upheld or a case number for such Appeal.
2. In so far as your email dated 14 January 2025 and your PAIA request is concerned, we advise that we are not receipt of the information contained in your paragraphs 7 , 8 & 9. This information did not serve before the investigating committee for consideration as you had not provided such at the time of the matter being referred to an Investigating committee. Should you however require the Committee to consider same we request that you provide our Offices with the information together with the information in para1 above.
3. We advise that we will pend the Disciplinary hearing subject to the additional information to be submitted by yourself. Once we are in receipt of the information, we will refer the matter to an Investigating committee to consider.
4. In the interim, I am of the opinion that it is premature to reply to your PAIA request but instead suggest that we allow for the internal processes to follow.

We trust that this adequately resolves your queries raised and we will await the information required by you.

Kind Regards,

Nadira Harripersad

Silly me, in my rush to get my letter off before your close of business, I neglected to add its annexures.

Coming up separately....
